Flames billow from a fuel barge (left) laden with 800,000 gals. of gasoline, which was rammed by the lakes freighter Penobscot. The tug Dauntless and the freighter caught fire when the barge exploded. Capt. Louis Guyette, Penobscot skipper, and Roy Richardson, helmsman, were among the 10 who died in the flames. They stayed at their posts and brought the freighter to shore, enabling other crewmen to escape. (NEA Telephoto)

Red Offer Raises Hopes For Armistice In Korea

Washington Rolls Out Plush Carpet Today For British Royalty

By ED CREAUGH
WASHINGTON — (AP)—Official Washington put on its best bib and tucker today to greet Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

And in spite of possible showers, thousands of men and women in the street planned to join in the capital's televised welcome for the British royal couple on their first visit to the United States.

Arrive At 4 P. M.
President and Mrs. Truman and their daughter Margaret headed the list of government officials, foreign diplomats and other dignitaries meeting Elizabeth and her blond, handsome husband on their arrival by plane from Montreal at 4 p. m. (EST).

Television and radio networks set up coast-to-coast coverage of the event.
A 21-gun salute was to touch off a rapid-fire succession of receptions, dinners and other ceremonies for the royal visitors. The first: a reception by some 900 news correspondents as soon as the couple had a chance to freshen up and sample American-style tea.

Elizabeth and Philip are guests of the President at Blair House during their 45-hour visit.

Gold Table Service
Tonight at 8 p. m. (EST) there's a presidential dinner—very formal, limited to about 20 guests because of cramped dining space in the Truman family's temporary residence. The gold table service and the blue-bordered china bought by Franklin D. Roosevelt, will be used.

Afterwards there's a reception for some 100 persons—supreme court justices, cabinet members, other high officials and their wives.

Then Elizabeth and her consort will be free to retire to their adjacent two-rooms-and-bath suites (one pale green, the other peach) and rest for a second round of official entertaining tomorrow.

Yesterday Montreal put on the greatest show in its history for the royal couple. An estimated 1,500,000 persons caught a glimpse of the smiling pair on a 40-mile procession. The crowd was so dense the cavalcade was forced to a complete halt several times to have the way cleared.

Mother Saves 3 Children In Fire

MERRILL, Mich.—(P)—A near-tragic misunderstanding almost claimed the life of a distraught mother when fire swept the Frank Cepak residence here early today.

After an overheated stove exploded, setting the farm home afire, Mrs. Cepak, about 35, tossed her three children to safety through a first floor window.

They were picked up there by a passing oil truck driver, who took them immediately to a doctor for treatment for burns and cuts.

Mrs. Cepak, meanwhile, made her own way out of the flaming home. But finding her children missing, she assumed that they were still in the house, and sought to re-enter to rescue them.

She had to be held back by Claude Eastman and his son, Douglas, who had seen the blaze and called the fire department. They assured her that the children were safe.

A 40-mile-an-hour wind kept the flames roaring until the house was destroyed.

Cold Spell Covers Great Lakes Region; Snow In Minnesota

(By The Associated Press)

It was overcast and galeshow weather for residents over wide areas from the Rockies to the North Central states today.

Strong winds whipped across much of the cold belt which covered the northern Rockies, the plains states and the upper Great Lakes region.

Temperatures of 10 above were reported early today at Drummond, Mont. and Fargo, N. D. It was near freezing in Chicago.

Snow flurries fell in the northern Great Lakes region. Snowfalls of more than nine inches were reported yesterday in Minnesota.

Arson Brings Prison

OWOSSO — (P)—John O. Shelton, 35, who set fire to his restaurant Labor Day and tried to collect insurance on stored furniture and equipment, was sentenced to prison Tuesday for arson. He was given seven to 20 years by Circuit Judge Willis Lyons. He admitted setting the fire.

The contest plainly meant that the Labor party intends to fight the new government on every conceivable issue, just as Churchill's followers fought the Labor government when it was in power.

Conservatives Elect Speaker In England; Laborites Opposed
LONDON — (P)—Winston Churchill's Conservatives elected one of their own number as speaker of the new House of Commons today in the first contest for the office since 1895.

The winner was W. S. Morrison, 58, a former minister of agriculture. The outcome cut the new government's overall majority from 18 to 17, since the speaker is traditionally neutral.

A group of Labor party insurgents precipitated the contest over the speaker. The vote was 318 for Morrison and 251 for the Labor candidate, Maj. James Milner.

Man Dead 15 Minutes In 28th Day Of Coma; May Live For Months
LONG BEACH, Calif. — (P)—Melvin Eugene Hewitt, 27, who was brought back from the dead when doctors massaged his heart, today entered his 28th day in a coma.

Hewitt, an El Monte, Calif., laborer, had been dead about 15 minutes when doctors cut open his chest and massaged his heart. After the treatment, he started breathing but has never regained consciousness.

At the veterans hospital here, officials said Hewitt might live for months without regaining his senses. X-rays of his skull show no fracture or injury and his heart action is described as good.

Hewitt, a navy veteran, was knocked down in front of a cafe Oct. 3, during an argument over a world series baseball game, police said.

Surgery Specialist At Ionia Stricken As He Starts Operating
IONIA, Mich. — (P)—Dr. Thomas Jefferson Cox, who specializes in surgery in Ionia county, died today of a heart attack.

The 46-year-old surgeon was stricken as he began a minor operation at Ionia county Memorial hospital. An assistant completed the operation.

Dr. Cox died an hour and a half later en route to a hospital in Grand Rapids.

Two Sides Get Close Together On Buffer Zone

Communists Want To Keep Kaesong
By NATE POLOWETZKY

MUNSAN, Korea — (P)—Red truce negotiators offered today to create a buffer zone along their version of the present battle line in Korea.

They called it their "last and best proposal."

The surprise Red Offer approached demands of the United Nations command. It brought the two sides closer together than they ever have been on the question.

Solution Nearer

Hopes soared in this truce camp. But a U. N. command spokesman said there were two important differences between the new Red offer and the allied proposal:

1. The Reds want to keep Kaesong, former truce talks site. The allies want to take it over.

2. The Communist version of the battle line is two or three miles south of where the allies place it.

Col. Andrew J. Kinney, chief U. N. liaison officer, said there were certain other things the U. N. negotiators could not accept immediately.

But, he added, the Communist offer brought the buffer zone question nearer to a solution than at any time since truce talks first started July 10.

Allies Suspicious

Red negotiators submitted their plan unexpectedly near the close of Wednesday's meeting of truce subcommittees in a rain-soaked tent at Panmunjom.

Three times, Kinney said, the Red delegates said this was "their last and best proposal."

"This makes us very suspicious,"

Pickford Banker, 61, Says He's Coward, Then Kills Himself

ST. IGNACE, Mich. — (P)—The state began an audit today of the private bank in the village of Pickford whose cashier committed suicide yesterday. The bank's vaults were sealed at 9 a. m.

A spokesman for the directors of the bank unofficially estimated a shortage of $200,000 would be found.

Ford Beacom, 61, cashier of the bank, shot himself to death in a country road. He left a note saying he was taking "a coward's way out."

Receiver Asked

The directors, meeting this morning, adopted a resolution asking the Chippewa county circuit court to appoint a receiver for the bank in the little Upper Peninsula community. Application for a receiver will be made tomorrow morning in Sault Ste. Marie before Judge Herbert W. Runnels.

With a state trooper on guard at the closed bank, the State Banking Commission's chief examiner, W. A. Blinn Bushaw began an audit after conferring with the directors. State Banking Commissioner Maurice C. Evenden came here from Lansing to join in the investigation.

The Bank of Pickford was one of Michigan's remaining 11 private banks now being brought under state control. The legislature took this step only last week. The bank was reported to have assets of more than a $1,000,000 but since it was a private bank the depositors were not protected by Federal insurance.

Village Stunned

Business in the village (pop. 500) northeast of here was paralyzed. Groups of villagers stood around in stunned silence.

Beacom, who headed the bank as its principal stockholder, was a respected citizen in the community. The bank was founded in

Ann Arbor Trio Up For Murder

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (P)—Three 18-year-old boys face trial here today in one of the most cold blooded murders to stir up this university town in years.

The three—William Morey III and Jacob Max Pell of Ypsilanti and David Royal of Milan—are accused of the bloody mallet slaying of pretty 34-year-old nurse Pauline Campbell.

The attractive blond nurse was bludgeoned to death Sept. 16 as she returned to her rooming house shortly after midnight following her tour of duty at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital.

First order of business was selection of a circuit court jury to try the youths who have maintained a bored calm since their arrest four days after the crime.

Prosecutor Douglas K. Reading is expected to ask for a first degree murder conviction. He claimed written confessions describing the assault, during which the victim suffered two blows that cracked the skull and dislodged the brain.

Ten Seamen Perish In Buffalo's Worst Maritime Disaster

BUFFALO, N. Y. — (P)—A U. S. Coast Guard board of inquiry has begun a full scale investigation to try to determine the cause of a lakes vessel collision Monday night that turned into the worst maritime disaster ever to happen in Buffalo harbor.

Capt. H. C. Moore of the Cleveland headquarters of Coast Guard district nine arrived here last night to head the panel of officers conducting the probe. Moore is chief of staff of the district.

Skipper Among Victims

Also here from Cleveland is Capt. George P. Kenney, chief of merchant marine safety for the district. Third member of the board is Comdr. Stanley J. Rovinsky, officer-in-charge of the Marine Inspection Bureau here.

The barge Morania-130, laden with 800,000 gallons of gasoline, was rammed by the Great Lakes freighter Penobscot. The tug Dauntless and the freighter caught fire when the barge exploded.

Ten seamen were believed dead as a result of the explosion and fire. Three bodies have been recovered. Two of them were identified as those of Capt. Louis Guyette, 51, skipper of the Penobscot, and Roy Richardson, 56, helmsman of the steamer.

Seven other seamen were missing and believed dead.

No More Bodies
A small fire aboard the Dauntless after it was towed to a dock last night was put out by city firemen about five hours after the first traces of the new blaze were discovered.

The board of inquiry began its probe last night when members of the unit went aboard the Dauntless just before the small blaze broke out. They took part in the vain search for bodies in the debris inside the tug. A Coast Guard spokesman hinted that the missing men may have perished in flaming gasoline as they attempted to swim to shore.

$11,923.43 Collected In Chest Campaign

A total of $11,923.43, or approximately 60 per cent of the quota of $20,000, has been collected to date in the Delta County Community Chest campaign, Nicholas Chapekis, county chairman, announced this morning.

Chapekis urged all residents who have not yet been contacted to consider the practical slogan, "A Half Day's Pay Is Delta County's Way," before making their contribution.

"The cooperation of all residents of the county is needed to make the Community Chest campaign a success," he said. Volunteer solicitors must work extra hard this week and possibly next week, and all persons being solicited are urged to make generous contributions to enable the county to reach its goal. Directly or indirectly, everyone will benefit from welfare work of the six agencies financed by Community Chest funds."

Of the $11,923.43 collected to date, $7,833.68 has been subscribed in Escanaba, $3,700 in Gladstone and $389.75 in the townships. Township reports are incomplete and are being brought up to date as rapidly as possible. The respective quotas are Escanaba $12,500, Gladstone $4,500 and the 14 townships, $3,000.

All township chairmen in the eastern half of the county—Baldwin, Ensign, Fairbanks, Garden, Mapleridge, Masonville, Bay de Noc and Nahma—report they will reach their quotas. Walter Peters is chairman of this half.

Work is progressing somewhat slowly in the western half—Bark River, Brampton, Escanaba, Cornell, Wells and Ford River—but Chairman Leo Brunelle reported yesterday he would "corral his forces" and strive to reach the quota in each township.

Gladstone workers are optimistic about "going over the top" and Escanaba solicitors are intent on keeping pace.

Persons who have not yet been contacted, however, are requested to mail their contributions to the Chest headquarters, in Escanaba.

Livestock Marketing Upswing Predicted

WASHINGTON—(AP)—There is some evidence that an upswing in livestock marketing, anticipated by government officials for this fall, has started.

The agriculture department reported yesterday that meat production by federally inspected slaughterers went up nine per cent last week—one of the few weeks since early summer when production exceeded that of the comparable week in 1950.

Slaughter in the Midwest was still far below last year's kill, but it was up sharply in other sections of the country.

Boost Railroad Workers Benefit

Retirement, Survivor Assistance Higher

Higher retirement and survivor benefits are in store for most of the nation's railroad workers and their families as a result of amendments to the railroad retirement act approved by President Truman, it was announced today.

The Railroad Retirement Board estimates that 250,000 retired railroad employees will receive increases averaging 30 percent, and 150,000 survivors of deceased employees will get increases averaging 45 percent in their monthly benefits. The first checks to include some increases will go out about December 1. Other increases will be made as soon thereafter as possible. No action is required by any beneficiary until notified by the Board.

The new law does not change the tax-rate schedule.

Will Assist Families

Here is a run down of the principal changes:

Most retirement benefits will first be raised by 15 percent. The higher payments will go to all persons now on the rolls as well as to those who will retire in the future. The maximum annuity now payable will rise from $144 to $165.60 a month.

A monthly benefit will be allowed for the wife of a retired employee over age 65, if she is also over age 65 or has children under 18. This benefit amounts to 50 percent of the retired employee's benefit up to a maximum of $40. The wives of about 80,000 retired employees currently receiving benefits will be able to qualify for this benefit immediately. The maximum payable to a man and wife will be $205.60; eventually, combined benefits above $250 will be possible.

Service after age 65 is now creditable toward retirement, but the most service that can be counted when service before 1937 is included is still 30 years.

The monthly benefits payable to the survivors of deceased railroad employees will be increased by 33-1/3 percent and lump-sum death payments by 25 percent. The maximum amount payable to a family will rise from $109 to $160 a month.

Security Benefits

A survivor will now be permitted to earn $50 a month in social security employment without losing that month's annuity payment.

A new minimum provision is added which will guarantee that both retirement and survivor benefits paid under the railroad system, together with any social security benefits which may be payable, will in no case be less than the benefit the social security system would have paid if railroad employment were covered by that system. This will in many cases produce increases over and above those already mentioned.

In the future, employees who retire with less than 10 years of railroad service, and the survivors of those who die with less than 10 years of service, will receive their benefits under the Social Security Act the same as though the railroad service had been performed under that Act.

A reduction will be made in the

Houghton Gets 5 Inches Of Snow; Rain, Wind Here

The strong winds and rain which struck the Escanaba area last night produced a more wintry effect elsewhere in the Upper Peninsula.

Houghton was hardest hit as usual. Early today that community had five inches of fresh snow on the ground and drifts were piled up many feet high. Marquette had three inches.

The rain here totaled .18 inch. Wind velocities exceeded 30 miles per hour for several hours, with gusts exceeding 40 miles per hour.

Oil Terminal Land Sought

Proposal Before Planning Body

The Escanaba planning commission last night took under advisement a proposal by the Dollar Bay Terminal company of Sault Ste. Marie for the purchase of 600 feet of water frontage in the city-owned ore dock project site for use as a gasoline terminal.

The commission will visit the proposed site Thursday morning and will meet again at five o'clock Thursday to make a recommendation for presentation to the city council Thursday evening.

Robert Meyer, band director, appeared before the commission to informally discuss proposals for the construction of a city band shell as a memorial to the late Frank Karas, former director of the municipal band.

A recommendation for the rezoning of an area in the 200 block of South 21st street from industrial to commercial use was approved by the commission after a public hearing.

The commission also recommended that city owned lot on the Danforth road be sold to Harnischfeger corporation for use as a parking lot for employees of the truck crane plant.

The rezoning of North 21st street between Ninth and Tenth avenue from Class B residential to commercial also was approved by the planning commission.

The planning commission approved plans for the use of Lannon stone for the exterior of the city water filtration plant.

At 13 miles away, the lowest cliff that can be seen rising from the surrounding landscape is 100 feet. Anything lower could not be seen at that distance as an elevation or rise in ground.

amount of retirement benefits payable to an employee who is also entitled to a retirement benefit under the social security system and who worked in railroad employment before 1937.

Death Takes Mrs. Daley

Funeral Rites Will Be Held Thursday

Mrs. T. J. Daley, 81, member of an early day Escanaba family, died last yesterday afternoon at the Norway hospital where she had been a patient the past eight months.

Mrs. Daley, was born, Isabel Marie Blake, in High Cliff, Wis., December 10, 1870, and she moved here with her parents in 1886. Following her graduation from Escanaba high school she attended the Ypsilanti business school. She was married to Mr. Daley in 1921 and they lived here many years at 411 Ogden avenue. He died in June of 1948.

She was a devout member of St. Stephen's Episcopal parish, a charter member of the Escanaba Woman's club and a member of St. Stephen's Guild.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 Thursday at the Boyce funeral home chapel by the Rev. Joseph S. Dickson and burial will be in Lakeview cemetery.

Mrs. Daley's survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Nancy B. Thomas and Mrs. Albert E. Ellsworth, both of Escanaba.

Mink Ranchers Meet Tuesday

Association May Be Organized

Mink breeders of Delta county and vicinity will meet at the Ford River township hall at 8 Tuesday night, Nov. 6.

Formation of an association for the mutual benefit of the fur ranchers will be considered. If the proposal is adopted, officers of the new group will be elected.

One of the objectives of the association will be the group buying of food and other materials used in the raising of the fur-bearing animals. Organization of a buying pool, it is felt, would enable the ranchers to effect substantial savings in purchases.

Delta county has about forty mink ranchers.

C&NW Has Ore Train Mishap

Two Cars Buckle At Cedar Creek

Two cars buckled when a separation occurred in a 110-car ore train on a descending grade near the Cedar Creek water tank, 18 miles west of Escanaba on the Schleisinger line of the C&NW railway at 3:05 Tuesday afternoon.

No cars left the track and no personal injuries resulted. Supt. Leonard C. Reynolds of the C&NW railway said it was necessary to use a wrecking derrick to separate the cars and dump one of them, which was damaged beyond repair. The first four head cars in the train were damaged.

The train, loaded with Gogebic range ore bound for Escanaba, was in charge of Conductor Adeline Grenier and Engineer Wesley Roushorne of Escanaba.

Deer Licenses Going On Sale

Hunters Advised To Buy Tags Early

Get your deer license early. Sudden runs on upstate license supplies by last minute purchasers have exhausted dealers' normal stocks in previous seasons, the conservation department cautions hunters. Each year a good number of deer hunters change their purchasing location causing an oversupply in some areas and shortages in others.

The department again stresses that sport hunting and fishing licenses no longer are sold at its regional and district offices.

Bay de Noc Bonds Approved By State

The Michigan municipal finance commission today approved a $5,-600 general obligation bond issue of Bay de Noc township to complete a hall at Stonington, the Associated Press reports.

Voters of the township by a large majority approved the bond issue and millage increase proposals earlier this fall, when the question was resubmitted following rejection of a larger bond issue approved by the voters last spring.

State approval of the bond issue today assures the ability of the township to pay for construction of the township hall, sponsored as a project by the Bay de Noc Grange and the township board.

The Grange has entered the project in the National Grange community service contest.

NFLA Officers Are Reelected

Fifty Stockholders Meet In Escanaba

All officers of the Cloverland National Farm Loan association were reelected at a meeting of about fifty stockholders held at the Delta county courthouse in Escanaba on Tuesday.

They are: President, Walter Anderson, Carney; vice president, William E. Smith, Trenary; directors, Clarence Anderson, Bark River; B. A. Heath, Skandia; and Adolph F. Larson, Iron Mountain. Albert Kinnon of Escanaba was reelected secretary-treasurer.

The Cloverland National Farm Loan association serves all Federal Land Bank and Land Bank commissioner loans, contracts and real estate in Marquette, Dickinson, Menominee, Delta and Alger counties. It operates under a group arrangement with the Lock City N. F. L. A. of Sault Ste. Marie, the Superior of Houghton, and the Hiawatha at Manistique, with the group office located in Escanaba.

Secretary - Treasurer Kinnon presented the annual report, showing that 1951 was one of the most successful years in the association's history. A four per cent

Limestone Boat To Be Launched

Built At Manitowoc For Bradley Line

MANITOWOC, Wis.—The largest self-unloading limestone carrier on the Great Lakes, the steamer John G. Munson, will be launched here Nov. 28. It was announced today by Charles C. West, president of the Manitowoc Shipbuilding company.

The 666-foot coal-burning vessel, now under construction for the Bradley Transportation company, a United States Steel corporation subsidiary, is named in honor of the retired vice president of raw materials for U. S. Steel. Mr. Munson directed the exploratory operations of the Cerro Bolivar iron ore deposits in Venezuela and the development of new methods for treating Minnesota taconite ores. He had served as president and director of the Michigan Limestone and Chemical company and Bradley Transportation company from 1928 to 1939.

Launching of the freighter will take place in time for it to join the six boats which now comprise the Bradley fleet early in the 1952 shipping season. It will be the widest cargo vessel on the lakes, with a 72-foot beam and will have a carrying capacity of 20,000 gross tons of stone. Its speed loaded will be approximately 16 miles an hour. It will be capable of discharging 4,000 gross tons of limestone an hour. The Bradley fleet transports limestone from Calcite, Mich., to lower lake ports for use largely by steel mills and chemical plants.

Manitowoc Shipbuilding company used prefabrication extensively in building the Str. Munson. Large sections such as bulkheads, bow and stern sections and tanks were fabricated in the company's shops rather than on the boat. The keel was laid March 8. Self-unloaders are equipped with belt conveyors which deliver the cargo from booms swung over the dock.

The present Bradley vessel bearing Mr. Munson's name has been rechristened the Irvin L. Clymer, in honor of the company's president.

Editorials- Community Chest Campaign Is Only At The Half-Way Mark

THE Community Chest campaign in Escanaba has reached the half-way mark, with $6,600 collected of the city's $12,500 goal. So the job is only half done—with the biggest and most difficult half still to be attained.

The figures for the entire county are not immediately available but the county campaign presumably is also about at the half way mark.

It is apparent that the tough aspect of the campaign still is ahead. Solicitors who have not completed their assignments are urged to do so within the next several days. It means call backs where the original contact was missed.

Those who have not been solicited for the Community Chest are urged to contact Community Chest headquarters.

The success or failure of the one-campaign plan for the six agencies participating in this program depends upon the work still remaining to be accomplished in this campaign. If the Community Chest fails to make its goal this year, it means that this will probably be the last year that the one-campaign principle will be attempted. The inevitable result is a return to multiple campaigns, with each of the various agencies soliciting on its own to meet its budget.

Penny Postcard Dies Out Jan. 1

THE new postal rate bill signed into law by President Truman yesterday dooms the one-cent postcard. Effective Jan. 1, postcards will take a two-cent rate.

In doubling the postcard rate, Congress rejected the contention that the penny postcard is the poor man's mail. The real truth is that the postcards were not used primarily by poor people but rather by business interests for advertising purposes. In effect the government was substantially subsidizing the advertising program of business firms.

Russia Cracks Down On Its Satellites

THE new, harsher pattern of oppression being imposed by Moscow on the satellite nations reflects no casual whim of Stalin. It indicates instead that Russia is now giving far greater economic importance to these countries.

Since the Kremlin established control over Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Poland after the war, it has been steadily milking them for all they are worth. It has done this with the sole idea of fattening the Soviet Union. Bare survival was considered good enough for the satellites.

In keeping with this policy, Russia discouraged development of industry in these nations. Raw materials and agricultural products were drawn into the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe was maintained in the colonial role it had known before the war.

But times have changed. Russia's own economic performance in recent years has fallen well below expectations. Transportation difficulties have mounted, and this is a crucial consideration in a country where raw materials are so unfavorably located.

In consequence, the Kremlin has decided to build up the satellites to fill the breach. They have certain natural advantages for industrial purposes—some have skilled manpower, easily accessible raw materials, better transport, and generally a more advanced cultural development.

Obviously, however, these nations must be more tightly woven into the Soviet system if they are to be relied on for a real industrial contribution to Moscow's power. And to fit them permanently into the Soviet economy means serious political hazards have to be surmounted.

This is the true explanation for the ruthless eradication of middle class folk and all other "unreliables" in Hungary and some of the other satellites in the past few months. Russia knows it cannot count on the necessary loyalty from these elements; it is adopting the standard Red tactic of eliminating them.

The Soviet campaign for industrializing the satellites will call for substantial shipments of machinery and equipment. In addition, the workers will have to be pressed into the mold of "socialist competition" to get out the production the Kremlin demands.

The significance of this trend should not be minimized. If the program is carried out successfully, the nations of the Soviet bloc will actually have been remodeled in the Russian image. For all practical purposes, they might as well be incorporated into the Soviet Union.

Worse still, in the process the healthy, democratically minded elements which form the core of anti-Communist resistance will indeed have been fatally crushed. Thus the task of restoring them ultimately to freedom will have become immensely more difficult.

FIGHT FOR EFFICIENCY
(Duluth News-Tribune)

Reorganization of the federal government, along the lines of the Hoover report, got shockingly little attention during the first session of the 82nd Congress. When Congress adjourned, the Citizens' Committee for the Hoover Report was scheduled to go out of existence Dec. 1.

It looked like a defeat for reorganization, and a discouraging precedent for future efforts. Approximately half of the recommended changes have become law, but the remaining half includes some which count heavily because they are repugnant to the extremists in the reorganizing group.

Happily, the committee is not going to quit. The poor record of the first session in pushing reorganization has alarmed many persons, among them members of both houses of Congress. They urged the committee to keep going. The new goal is completion of the remaining changes by next June.

Added federal taxes, plus a promised drive for more in the session commencing in January, should awaken interest in the possibility of economy. Soaring total expenditures mean greater chances for saving, if efficient methods can be applied. Experts are talking of a yearly saving of 7 to 10 billion dollars are possible—if Congress becomes interested, stays interested, and adopts the reorganization bills. The fight is more necessary now than ever. Americans generally should be pleased to know that the committee is not giving up, but will keep on with the fight.

Questions and Answers

Q—What is a mugwump?
A—Mugwump was formerly applied in the U. S. to one who votes independently, and especially to those members of the Republican party who refused to support its official presidential candidate, James G. Blaine, in 1884. The term is occasionally used today in reference to one who bolts his party.

Q—What is the most prolific mammal?
A—The family of rats and mice is the largest of all families among the mammals. In North America nearly one-fourth of all our four-footed animals belong to this mighty family.

Dr. Towey Renamed To TB Commission

THE reappointment of Dr. John Towey of Powers to the state tuberculosis sanatorium commission by Gov. Williams to a new term expiring Oct. 9, 1954 is in recognition of the excellent job that Dr. Towey has done as a commission member.

As director of Pinecrest Sanatorium, Dr. Towey has earned a reputation as one of the top tuberculosis experts in the country. The state commission needs men of this caliber and Gov. Williams has acted wisely in retaining the eminent specialist on this important agency.

The appointment of Walter Patenge of Lansing as another member of the commission likewise deserves commendation. Patenge is governor of the Michigan district of Kiwanis international, a position which in itself recognizes Mr. Patenge's interest in the well-being of others.

Halloween Memory

I can think of no event that will recall my youthful days, like arrival of the Halloween when comes the autumn haze. Then I ponder years gone by and how I waited for the time, when, with Halloween to blame it on, I led a life of crime. But the kids today have far more sense and still have lots of fun, and our Halloween's the better with but little damage done.

I remember how destructive used to be the evening pranks, when we called around the neighborhood but got no vote of thanks. Like as not we left some grotesque things upon a fellow's roof, and of novel ways to pester folks, we surely had the proof. And I blush to think how once we thought we'd really won renown, when we moved a certain building—'twas the last one in the town.

But our Halloween, like other things, improve throughout the years, and today a man can welcome it without a lot of fears. There are still the spooks and goblins and the witches on their sticks, but it's seldom that our Halloween includes destructive tricks. And I'm glad it proves that frisky kids can go their happy way, and not leave a trail of damage on October's holiday.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Even while Princess Elizabeth and her consort are in Washington, U. S. diplomats are appraising the cold realities of the British elections. And they are wondering whether the dynamic, dramatic Mr. Churchill isn't going to be a lot more difficult to work with than drao, pedestrian Clement Attlee.

Three weeks before the election, the state department got an inkling of this in the form of a confidential cable from the American embassy in London that Churchill planned a grandstanding meeting between himself, Stalin and Truman. Since Truman will not go to Europe and Stalin will not come to Washington, such a move would play right into the hands of the Moscow propaganda machine which claims we are the war-mongers and won't even discuss peace.

Furthermore, state department officials recall vividly though pleasantly those dramatic days when the bespattered Winston traipsed through the upper halls of the White House, his crimson and gold kimona flapping round his half-naked torso, keeping Harry Hopkins up until 3 a. m., and finally pushing British policy across on the reluctant Roosevelt in various parts of the world.

Today, American policies have largely become British policies—in Greece, Turkey, Western Europe, Japan and China. But in those days, British policies usually became American policies, thanks to the tireless, persuasive, masterful man in the red and gold kimono, who would not sleep until he had persuaded U. S. leaders to yield.

A lot of memories come crowding back to the diplomats who attended those meetings, vivid memories of a vivid personality who dominated whatever meeting he attended and usually shaped the world the way he wanted it. Here are some of them:

CHURCHILL AT CASABLANCA

Here Winston put across two things: The Italian campaign through the "soft underbelly of the axis," which did not prove to be soft and which many U. S. strategists felt was a mistake; second, a pledge from FDR that the Mediterranean theater would be British-dominated. . . This meant American communications even between our personnel had to be sent over British radio, that all transportation was okayed by the British, that all political decisions were British, that a British general supervised Gen. Mark Clark in Italy. . . It also meant—after the war—that the U. S. A. supplied the tanks, the lend-lease, the UNRRA supplies in Greece, while Churchill fixed policy.

CHURCHILL ON GREECE

Shortsighted Churchillian policy in Greece can best be summarized in his own words, a telegram Churchill sent to Gen. Ronald M. Scobie, British commander in Athens: "Do not hesitate to act as if you were in a conquered city. . . You should not hesitate to open fire on any armed male in the Greek capital who assails the authority of the British. . . Keep and dominate Athens." . . British highhandedness in Greece, taken without consulting the U. S. A., finally forced London to dump the entire problem in our lap. We have been both paying the bill and fixing policy since. Before, we merely paid the bill.

BRITISH IN EGYPT

The one-sided results of the Churchill-FDR political deal for the Mediterranean were inadvertently summarized by U. S. Near Eastern commander, Gen. Benny Giles, at a press conference in Cairo. . . "Gentlemen," he said, "I have noticed that you have been writing political news. You are war correspondents. You are part of the U. S. Army and you will write nothing critical of British policy in the Middle East."

CHURCHILL ON CHINA

Meeting with Chiang Kai-shek and FDR in Cairo in 1943, Churchill flatly opposed an Allied campaign over the Burma road. This was what Chiang wanted most. But Churchill, vetoing it, argued for a campaign to retake Britain's old possessions—Singapore and the Malays. . . At this Chiang started to pack up, threatened to go home. To assuage him, FDR proposed the British give up Hong Kong, making it an international port under the United Nations. Churchill's reply: "I did not become prime minister to liquidate the British empire." . . Chiang returned to China empty-handed, and it was this failure to

Alaskan Odyssey:

After Five Good Alaskan Weeks, Stuart Raises A NY-Bound Thumb

SOME TROUBLES—in the form of mosquitos, dust, snakes and cops—were in store for Stuart Ingersoll as he embarked on his modern odyssey. This map shows his route from Anchorage to New York.

By STEWART INGERSOLL
As Told to Richard Kleiner
NEA Staff Correspondent

One rainy afternoon in August, I stood outside the Air Base at Anchorage, Alaska. I raised my thumb as an old car came along. It stopped and I picked up my two suitcases and got in.

"Where you headed for, young feller?" asked the grizzled old-timer at the wheel.

"New York," I answered.

He practically swallowed his plug of tobacco when he heard that. He allowed as how New York was a pretty long way to hitch-hike and how it would probably take me a month to make it.

But it only took 15 days traveling time. And it only cost me $35, plus $55 for ship fare for one leg which I could have done by truck for nothing.

It was an experience I'll never forget. There was, of course, scenery that was breathtaking. But even more thrilling was the chance to meet and talk with all kinds of people. In the 15 days I was hitch-hiking on the road, I really had some wonderful moments—and a few that I could have done without.

There was the night when I drove through the Redwood Forest in an outlandish vehicle with a full moon overhead. There were days pushing down the bumpy, dusty Alcan Highway in a powerful Diesel truck. There was my voyage on the Inland Passage from Skagway to Vancouver with a lion and some anything-for-a-laugh drunken itinerant workers as fellow passengers.

There was the Okie family that made room for me in a battered car jammed with their household belongings, and proved to be the kindest folk alive. There were helpful truck drivers, lonesome traveling salesmen, naive farm girls, soldiers, sailors, college students, I'm grateful to them all.

They were all curious about my story, too. As soon as they heard I was hitch-hiking from Alaska to New York, they'd want to know all about Alaska, a land which apparently fascinates people who've never been there.

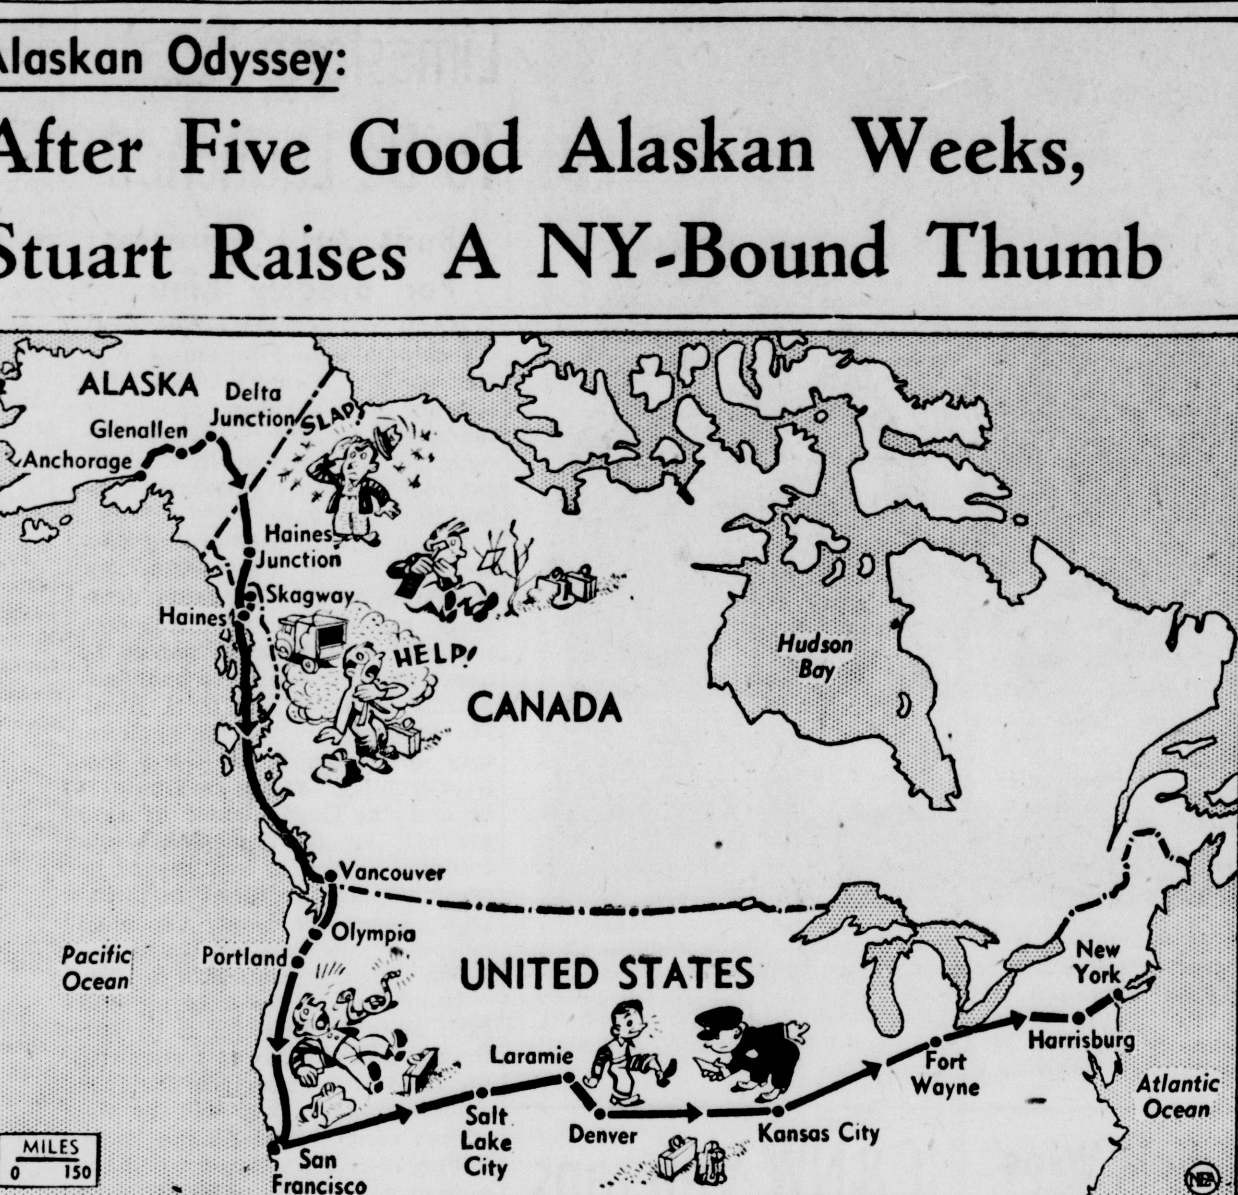

I would tell them, first, that I was 19, between, my sophomore and junior years at Yale where I'm majoring in history. I hope to go to law school after I graduate, but I'll probably be drafted first.

I had planned to spend the whole summer in Alaska. I'd gone up by train and plane, and had decided to work until I could make enough money for the return trip.

It took a while to get a job. It wasn't the jobs were scarce, but you have to belong to a union before you can get hired. I had met some other college students and we'd built a sort of cooperative camp. We had tents, and some of the more talented fellows' built shacks out of packing cases the Army had discarded.

I was lucky to have found such cheap living quarters, because I was down to my last 50 cents when I finally got work. My employer gave an advance, so from then on I was all right.

The pay scale in Alaska is fabulous by continental U. S. standards. My job was the lowest on the union scale—ditch digger

SOME TROUBLES—in the form of mosquitos, dust, snakes and cops—were in store for Stuart Ingersoll as he embarked on his modern odyssey. This map shows his route from Anchorage to New York.

—and I made $167 a week. Living costs, of course, are correspondingly high, too. A glass of beer is 40 cents and so is a hamburger. But, since I lived on about $20 a week in the camp, I was able to save considerable.

My first job lasted two weeks. We were given blueprints of Anchorage's streets and told to find the manhole covers. Since they were first put down, they'd gradually gotten covered with dirt and the contractors wanted to find them again. It sounded simple, but the blueprints often differed from the facts by as much as 40 feet. We'd dig where there was supposed to be a manhole cover, and it wouldn't be there.

So we'd dig up all along the street until we found it. For two weeks, I was on this treasure hunt for buried manhole covers. Then I worked two weeks on a straight ditch-digging operation and one week in construction. That last week I also worked three hours at night, and made

I took the extra work because I could see I would soon have enough money for my trip home. In the five weeks, I made enough to pay for the whole summer. Since it had taken a shorter time than I figured, I decided I'd hitch rather than ride commercial transportation. In a cross-country trip two years ago, I found out that hitch-hiking is fun, and you see the country so much better than from a train or bus.

I packed a loaf of pumpernickel bread, some cheese and cans of powdered milk, chocolate and eggs in one of my suitcases, put on dungarees and a plaid shirt, and walked out to the Air Base at the edge of town.

The MP at the gate talked to me while I waited. It turned out he was from Babylon on Long Island—near my home at Huntington—so we had a lot to talk about.

Then that first car stopped and I was on my way.

Letters From The People

What Is Law?

Dear Editor:

Is there such a thing as law in Delta county.

If there is, why can some people go and slaughter a farmer's cattle by the dozen and get away with it?

If a farmer tries to do something about it, he is just laughed at, he is just a dumb farmer.

A farmer is really dumb, he doesn't go on a strike like the city guy does, he has to wait and take what is allowed to him as market price, but when he purchases machinery, he pays three times, what the items is worth, he is paying for this striking stuff.

If these smart white collar guys would only wear their thinking caps, and consider where their breakfast comes from, there would be no bacon and eggs, toast and butter, cereals, cream in their coffee if it wasn't for the farmers.

Uncle Sam hires conservation men to watch his deer, if a man kills one he is brought in court, and ordered to pay a fine, more than what the meat is worth, but no one protects the farmer's herd of cattle. What is protected? the farmer, the cattle or the slaughterer? The latter I think.

If we farmers don't get together and do something about this, what will become of our cattle?

The only time that the county officers know a farmer is just before election. They then come to the farmer, hand him a card and a line of etc, and politely ask for a vote and that ends it all. I hope that some of our officers will wake up and do something about this cattle killing before next election.

I am a Farm Wife.

Time Of Second Reds

Killing frosts have come and cold-edged, blustery winds have made preliminary sorties over the countryside. Ice has skimmed barnyard troughs and woven thin lace patterns along pasture brooks. Small ponds have closed their eyes and bare maples, elms, birches and hickories are gray etchings in the woods. October's bright bonfires have died away and only a few smoldering embers are left. But if the season follows its accustomed schedule, there is a brief interlude in the first part of November when there are subdued but rich red blankets on the hillsides and in the wooded valleys.

For now the oaks take over. The oaks by heritage and ancient lineage are evergreens. A hundred million years ago oaks were growing in our southland; when the last Ice Age ended the oaks spread northward but still clung to their ages-old habit. Most deciduous trees in early autumn build a brittle plate of cells between twig and leaf stem. In the oaks this plate is only a half-completed affair. Therefore many oaks, in memory of the past, cling over winter until new growth pushes them loose in the spring.

After the first spell of black cold, November has its period of Indian Summer—mellow days that remind one of September and star-bright nights that seem like October. This is the time for second reds while a soft purple haze comes again to the mountains and earth relaxes in the pleasant warmth. Oak leaves are a symphony of shades—not brilliant scarlet but soft, muted and blended with a score of pastel hues. On a sunny afternoon an oak covered hillside resembles an antique Oriental rug; you can see rich maroons and

So They Say

The U. S. is relying on guns and dollars rather than ideas. . . What Asia needs is sympathy, understanding, an attitude of co-operation in the things they are trying to do.—William O. Douglas, Supreme Court justice.

I can't see any justification for paying farmers for doing something they would normally do. Farming should be a respectable business with a respectable income for anyone who wants to work for it.—Robert Meikle, farmer, of Michigan.

In its frustration, the Congress (today) is groping for some sort of code of ethics. But the Congress is confronted with the fact that sacred honor cannot always be tested by legality or enforced by law.—Herbert Hoover.

I do buy him (Secretary of State Dean Acheson) a tie and flashy vest once in a while—and he wears them, when we're alone.—Mrs. Dean Acheson, on shopping for her husband.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

NOT SO PRACTICAL—The search for a new power source for the city of Escanaba is under way—and one idea for solution (not entirely original) has been abandoned almost before it was born.

Without benefit of engineering experience, the thought was that Lake Superior—some 22 feet higher in level than Lake Michigan—could be tapped by an aqueduct and the water used as power to generate electricity. Narrowest point between the two lakes is the Au Train-Whitefish River valleys, a distance of about 70 miles.

The idea died quickly after a brief conversation with A. V. Aronson, Escanaba city manager, and Hugo Lilliquist, superintendent of the city's electric utility.

It would be extremely costly to construct, an enormous volume of water would have to be diverted to produce much electric power, and there is a little matter of a 100-foot elevation to surmount or tunnel. "Well, I guess you'll have to solve the city's electric problem without me," said I to the city manager and went back to writing a column.

THE CIVILIAN LIFE—Col. John Kelly of Manistique believes in military preparedness and universal military training. But at the same time he told a story indicating the dissatisfaction that results from trying to weld military procedures with civilian programs.

Returning home from World War II service, Col. Kelly decided to put the family on a military basis. He was commanding officer. Mrs. Kelly executive officer, and the children held lesser ranks down to the youngest five-year-old—who was a private.

After three weeks, when the commanding officer was calling for evening reports of the day's activities, the staff was asked if there were any questions. Only the private spoke up in reply:

"Sir," he asked, saluting smartly, "how do you get a transfer out of this blank-blank outfit?"

AND IN OCCUPATION—Michigan State college is sponsoring an educational mission in Okinawa, headed by agricultural extension personnel including Russell E. Horwood, until recently superintendent of MSC experimental station at Chatham.

Mrs. Horwood accompanied her husband to Okinawa, where she is helpful in behalf of the MSC group and its mission.

Writing from Okinawa, Miss Eleanor Densmore, Kent county home demonstration agent on leave, tells of some of the difficulties of the mission and the kindness of the Okinawans.

"Since most of them are about five feet in height, I loom about a foot above them," she writes in Michigan Extension News. "I bend down to get to their level when I talk to them, they think I am bowing, and being extremely polite they bow and bow in return. It becomes a game at which they always win the last bow.

"The Hodwoods and I visited some homes; some of them good, others middle class and some very poor. The latter are truly pitiful.

"I have decided to launch a one-man campaign to improve their stoves. They all smoke and the interior of their kitchens are black with soot. We need to design a simple brick or stone fireplace with a chimney that really functions and one that doesn't burn too much fuel."

NATIONAL TREND — There will soon be a larger hole in your earnings for the payment of federal taxes—but there will be a smaller hole in the American doughnut.

So reports Bert Nevins of the Donut Institute, a national agency dedicated to publicizing a morsel once considered an old-fashioned delicacy.

Unlike the gaping hole the new tax take will cut in your pay, however, the doughnut hole will be reduced only from seven-eighths to three-eighths of an inch, giving more food for thought than for dunking.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

THE READERS WRITE

Detroit: "What is the kind of word called that can be read the same backwards and forwards?"—M. E. K.

Answer: palindrome (accented on the first syllable PAL). Such words as "tot," "madam," "radar," are palindromes. Sentences also may be palindromic (accented on DROM, which is pronounced like (from)). Adam is said to have introduced himself to Eve with a palindrome: "Madam I'm Adam," which, if true, makes the palindrome the earliest form of human communication. The odds are, however, that Adam said nothing of the sort—especially not in English. Napoleon Bonaparte is rumored to have composed another famous Palindrome again dubious because it is in English: "Able was I ere I saw Elba." It's a good story, anyway. There are many other well-known palindromes. How many do our readers know?

Chicago: "Why is the card suit called 'clubs'?" The symbol looks more like a clover than a club to me.—Bridge Player.

Answer: It actually is a clover. The history of our playing cards is very complex, and a good part of it is obscure. The cards we use today are descended from earlier English cards (the costumes of the court or coat cards are Tudor and Stuart in style), which in turn are designed after French cards. But, the names of the black suits—spades and clubs—come from Spanish rather than from French. The suit corresponding to clubs is called "basto" in Spanish, literally "club" or "cudgel," and the cymbol is not the clover leaf but a club or wand. But the symbol on our cards is the one used in the French deck, where it is called "trefle," the trefoil or clover.

Similarly, the name "spades" is from Spanish "espada," sword, and the Spanish card carries a sword as its symbol. But our own spade symbol comes from the French card, where the suit is called "pique" for "pike," a long-handled, spear-like weapon, with a two-edged blade at the end of the staff.

Schedule Movie On Scandinavia

Lecture Program Will Be Held Nov. 12

"Eyes on Scandinavia," a spectacular motion picture in color will be presented in Escanaba Nov. 12 under sponsorship of North Star and Morning Star lodges, it was announced today by Hugo Larson, North Star Lodge president.

The program is scheduled at 8:15 p. m. in Wm. Oliver Memorial auditorium, Escanaba Junior high school.

Russell Wright, photographer and reporter, producer of "Eyes on Scandinavia," has traveled extensively in the Scandinavian countries during the past 13 years. The documentary motion picture was recently completed on his seventh assignment to Scandinavia.

Wide in scope and outlook, the film records scenes and activities of the people in Denmark, Finland, Norway and Sweden.

The work of rebuilding following the destruction of war, including modern housing and schools, is dramatically pictured by Wright.

Because of the importance of Scandinavia's recovery and prosperity in view of the Russian menace in Europe today, the film is revealing in its heartening show of strength among the hardy and freedom-loving peoples of the Scandinavian countries.

Tickets for "Eyes on Scandinavia" are available at Gust Asp's and Beck's store in Escanaba, Olson's men's store in Gladstone, and through members of the Morning Star Lodge ticket committee.

Danforth

Family Reunion

DANFORTH—Four generations of two families attended a reunion dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Otradovec in Danforth recently. Attending were the paternal and maternal grandparents and great-grandparents of Jerry Otradovec, six-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Otradovec.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Choinard, Mr. and Mrs. George Pepin, Mr. and Mrs. John Otradovec, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Herbeck.

Personals

Mrs. George Larson of Danforth has been admitted to St. Francis hospital for treatment for pneumonia. She is reported making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

Father Wields Gun; 2 Dead, One Wounded

PINE BLUFF, Ark.—(AP)—A 74-year-old man killed his son-in-law, wounded his daughter and then shot himself to death Monday night.

Dr. Frank Reed, Jefferson county coroner, identified the victims as Charles Robinson, sr., 74, and Robinson's son-in-law, Jeff Evans, about 50.

Evans' wife, Iva Dell, about 47, is in a Pine Bluff hospital in a critical condition. She said she could give no reason for the shooting.

Wallace Birks Of Ensign Celebrate Silver Wedding

RAPID RIVER—Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Birks of Ensign celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Saturday, October 27.

A party was held in their honor at the Ogontz hall. Cards and games were played. The winners in canasta were Mrs. Wesley Horning high and Ned Short, low. High in smear went to Miss Betty Herbert and low to Mrs. Harry Gustafson.

Mr. and Mrs. Birks were married October 23, 1926 in Escanaba by the late Rev. John Hugo, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church at that time. Their attendants were Miss Lillian Johnson, now Mrs. Max Hanson of Green Bay, niece of Mrs. Birks and Conrad Swanson, Mrs. Birks' brother. They lived four years in Milwaukee and then moved to Ensign, where they have made their home since June, 1931.

At their silver wedding Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Horning of Garden were their attendants. Mrs. Horning is Mr. Birks' sister.

Among those attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. John Swartz, jr., of Nahma; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Birks and Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of Fayette; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Horning, and Mrs. Mary Birks (Mr. Birks' mother) of Garden; Alvin Carlstrom, Manitowish; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Swanson, of Kingsford; Mr. and Mrs. Eric Lindahl, Mrs. Esther Mathison, Mrs. Hilma Holm and Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Holmberg of Gladstone.

The committee in charge of the arrangements was composed of Tillie Rudenberg, Mildred Lundin, Lillian Olson, Ellen Barbeau, Ina Lundberg, Hilma Holm, Nora Magnusson, Ellen Gustafson.

Mr. and Mrs. Birks were recipients of many lovely gifts.

Group Rate Offered For Mass Marriages

SINGAPORE — (AP) — Young Chinese can now get married at low cost, and still with all the necessary ceremonial trimmings. The Singapore Chinese Y.M.C.A. had 18 couples at its first mass wedding in Victoria Memorial Hall.

The total cost was $180 — or just $10 per couple. It was the cheapest mass wedding in Singapore since the liberation from Japanese occupation.

Shoots Black Tail

Pfc. Richard Casey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Casey, A Street, Wells, who is stationed at Travis Air Force Base in California, shot a seven point, 150 pound West Coast black tail deer on the last day of the season, October 21. He was hunting in the Blue Mountains and was using a 30-30. Pfc. Casey has been hunting for many years, but, until this season, has never gotten his buck.

He divided the deer up among the men of his squadron who have wives and families and is having the head mounted and sent to his home here.

Home From Korea—Staff Sgt. Paul Edward Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson of Rock Rt. 1, arrived home Sunday night on rotation furlough from Korea, where he served for the past 13 months with a motor squad of the field artillery. It is his first visit home in 31 months.

He enlisted in the U. S. Army in January, 1949, and received basic training at Camp Breckinridge, Ky. He has been overseas for 30 months, including 17 months in Japan and 13 months in Korea.

Sgt. Johnson will report to Fort Sheridan, Ill., on November 26.

Pfc. John G. Sauve, who recently arrived home on furlough, has left for Long Beach, California, where he has been assigned to the 188th Fighter Interceptor Wing, in the U. S. Air Force. Pfc. Sauve enlisted in the U. S. Air Force in February and after receiving his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, he was assigned to Sparten College, Tulsa, Okla., and Chanute Air Force Base, Rantoul, Ill. where he received extensive training as jet engine specialist. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli J. Sauve, Route No. 1, Escanaba.

Grenier-Allen Wedding
HERMANVILLE — At a ceremony performed by Rev. Fr. Stevens in St. Mary's church, Hermansville at 11, October 20, Miss Elaine Marie Grenier of Hermansville, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Grenier, became the bride of Hugh Emerson Allen, Green Bay, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Allen of Hermansville.

Church decorations were vases of yellow and white chrysanthemums and pompons with a background of cedar placed on the steps of the altar at which the couple knelt on satin pillows to exchange vows. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Leo T. Doran, organist.

The attendants were Miss Maxine O'Connor, Aurora, Wis., maid of honor, Mrs. William Allen, Niagara, Wis., bridesmaid, Richard Bruhl, Green Bay and William Allen, Niagara, best man and groomsmen and George Brock and Willard Brock, Stephenson, ushers.

Miss O'Connor wore a gown of mint green taffeta under net fashioned with a full skirt and a fitted bodice topped with an illusion yoke. Mrs. Allen's gown was identical except for the color, which was orchid. Their heart shaped crown head pieces were made of net which matched their gowns. They carried colonial bouquets of gold pompons.

The bride's gown was of white shirper satin with a bodice and a three-quarter length peplum of French imported lace over satin. A high Peter Pan collar of lace was set off with a diamond lavallier, a family heirloom; and long tight sleeves. A halo of orange blossoms held a double illusion veil which fell to her fingertips. She carried a bouquet of red roses. She was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Grenier, mother of the bride, wore a dress of royal blue crepe with navy blue velvet accessories. She wore a corsage of gold pompons. Mrs. Allen, mother of the groom, wore a red faille dress with black velvet accessories and a corsage of rust pompons pinned at her shoulder.

Dinner was served at 12 noon to 75 guests, family members and relations at the home of the bride. Centering the table was a low arrangement of white and gold numms and greens on either side. Centering the room was a white wedding bell. The reception was held from 3 to 7 at the bride's home with 200 guests present. A white five tiered wedding cake trimmed with red roses centered the table from which the guests were served. The colonial bouquets carried by the maid of honor and bridesmaid were placed beside the cake.

The new Mrs. Allen changed to a pearl grey suit with navy velvet accessories for her honeymoon which took them to Lower Michigan and Indiana.

They will be at home at 812 East Mason in Green Bay. The bride is a graduate of Hermansville high school and was employed by the J. C. Penney company of Iron Mountain. The bridegroom is a graduate of Hermansville high school and Green Bay Business college and at present is employed by the Green Bay Recreation department.

Birthday Party
HERMANVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. John Rodman entertained at a party in honor of their son, John who celebrate his eleventh birthday Saturday. Games were played. Lunch was served centered with a white birthday cake decorated in blue. Guests included Robert Anderson, Richard and James Fezatte, Jack St. Juliana, Karl LaMaide, Richard Faccio, Robert Yale, Roger Faccio, John Taylor, and Gary Duff. He received many gifts.

St. Anthony C. Y. O. Party
WELLS — The St. Anthony C. Y. O. Halloween party was held at the Wells township hall Thursday evening. The hall was decorated in the Halloween motif with Lucille Stoykovich in charge of decorations.

Three prizes were awarded for the three best costumes to Elizabeth Bakran, Carol Jean Gillespie, and Bill Desmond. Dancing and an amateur hour were enjoyed by the members and their guests.

Punch and cookies were served during the social hour. Roberta Gardner was chairman of the lunch which was served at the close of the party. Gerald Bussi-neau was in charge of the record player.

British Socialism Loses $35,000 Gift

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — (AP) — British Socialism has cost two London hospitals bequests left them by a Newport millionaire.

The state supreme court Tuesday voided gifts to the London hospital and the Elizabeth Garrett Anderson hospital because they now are operated under the national health service act of 1946.

The gifts represented the income from some $35,000 worth of real estate.

The court ruled that because of nationalization it could not be reasonably sure the money would go to charity as specified by the will.

The requests represent the final portion of the $4,500,000 estate of the Rev. Alexander G. Mercer, who died in 1885.

get political support — not pro-Communist advice by George Marshall—which really started the downfall of the Nationalists.

CHURCHILL AT OTTAWA

One of the constant battles between the U. S. military and Churchill all during the war was the Far East. General Marshall, then chief of staff, wanted real support for Chiang, not make-believe warfare. . . . At Ottawa he was so impatient that there was almost an open break with British Chief of Staff Sir Alan Brooke. . . . It was after this row that Churchill proposed Marshall take over the European Allied command. This would get him out of Washington where he had the power to allocate troops to either theater; put him in Europe where he would become absorbed with European problems. . . . At Ottawa, Churchill put likable, handsome handsome Lord Mountbatten, a cousin of King George, in command in Burma-India. But the British remained in control and no serious large-scale campaign ever got started. . . . The critics who now damn Marshall for Communism in China forget his consistent urging of aid to Chiang. . . . The British, who refused even the political sop of Hong Kong, thus encouraging Communism, later have wanted to recognize Communist China, and have used Hong Kong to ship supplies to the Communists.

ON SECOND FRONT

Wiseest policy Churchill ever argued during the war years was at Teheran—regarding the second front. However, he was a couple of years late. . . . Early in 1942, U. S. military leaders actually started planing a cross-channel operation from England into France. But Churchill sidetracked it to the so-called underbelly of the axis, which turned into long, drawn-out months of fighting. . . . At Casablanca, the 2nd front came up again. Churchill decreed: "I will not squander the seed of the British empire." . . . Having in mind the inevitable loss of British youth, Churchill then laid down a flat ultimatum that in any cross-channel operation, Britain would supply 25 per cent of the troops, the United States 75 per cent. This stopped U. S. military planners cold. At that time—the spring of 1934—they did not have the required troops in England. They had been sent to North Africa and the "soft underbelly."

Six months later, at Teheran, Churchill argued for a continued 2nd front through the soft underbelly—namely, Greece, Yugoslavia, Austro-Hungary. Stalin demanded a 2nd front across the channel, aimed at the heart of Germany. . . . What Churchill had in mind was keeping Russian troops out of the Balkans, and politically he was right. But what the U. S. general staff had in mind was military strategy and winning the war more quickly. So they ruled out the long transportation haul through the Mediterranean to the Balkans, voted with Stalin for the shorter, quicker jab at Germany via England. Militarily they were right. Shortly thereafter the war was won. But the cold war, which Churchill foresaw, has been dragging on ever since.

Spoil A Husband? Here Is How It Might Be Done

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—Europeans are firmly convinced that American wives are the world's most spoiled women.

But it seems to me that recently there has been a trend here in the other direction. Many American wives, tired of being spoiled themselves, want to spoil somebody else—usually the men in their lives.

How do you spoil a husband? Some wives are at a loss as to just how to go about it. They have forgotten the technique, it has been so long since they used it.

There is a right way and a wrong way. An example of the wrong way is the wife who wears a hearing aid and complains of his dish washing chores and hit upon this happy solution:

"I'll surprise him by buying him an electric dishwasher."

That only gave him a new problem—how to pay for the new dishwasher. The first thing a wife must do if she wants to spoil her husband is to cut down the number of his problems.

This Is The Way

When he comes home at the end of the day, lady, don't burst into a long tirade about your own vexations. Just be standing there in the open door, patiently holding his slippers in your mouth. Then pat him on his bald spot and say—first taking the slippers out of your mouth, of course—"Now you just sit down and rest, Honey. Read your newspaper a while. Never mind cooking dinner tonight—I'll do it myself for a change."

If you've had a lot of household troubles, make light of them. Say merry things to him, such as: "Well, the new maid bit me today, dear, and you should see the look on her face when I bit her right back. Ha, ha!"

Your little man has spent the whole day trying to avoid making decisions at his office. So don't force him to make decisions in his own home.

Are you going out for dinner? Don't say, "Why is it you never can make up my mind what restaurant we want to go to?" He knows that if he named twenty-nine different restaurants, as usual, you would decide to go to a thirtieth. Tell him, "Big boy, I've always wanted to take you to the Chez Nous Choppery, and that's where we're going."

When it's time to leave, don't stand by the door like a horse waiting to be harnessed. Get your own coat out of the closet and put it on all by yourself, for a change. And don't give him a glare if he's slow to open the door. Reach out, grab the knob firmly, and open the door yourself. You'd be surprised at the power you have in your strong womanly hands.

That's the basic principle, if you want to spoil your husband. Start doing for yourself again all the small things you have been forcing him to do as duties all the years of your wedded life. Go even further—light up his cigarette once in a while.

That's all there is to it, lady. Just make him feel important. And the more you spoil him the more your dream boy will want to spoil you, too. That'll be your reward—he'll start courting you all over again, and mean it.

Rapid River Will Stage Halloween Carnival Friday

RAPID RIVER—The Halloween carnival will be held Friday evening, November 2, from 7 to 10:30 o'clock at the Rapid River school. At 10:30 a dance will begin with music furnished by Bill Hewitt and his band. Each class will sponsor concession stands. They are:

Self-Unloader Ship Will Be Launched At Manitowoc Nov. 28

MANITOWOC, Wis. — (AP) — A $6,000,000 self-unloading Great Lakes freighter, under construction here for the Bradley Steamship Co. of Cleveland, will be launched Nov. 28.

The 666-foot vessel, its 72-foot beam making it the widest cargo ship on the lakes, will be used to carry lime stone from Calceit, Mich., to the lower lake ports.

Armin L. Pirtz, vice-president of the Manitowoc Shipbuilding Co., said the ship will be christened the John G. Munson in honor of the retired vice-president of the United States Steel Co. Bradley is a subsidiary of the firm.

Pirtz said a ship now in use bearing Munson's name will be rechristened the Irvin L. Clymer after the president of the Bradley company.

The new ship will carry 20,000 gross tons of stone at a speed of 16 miles per hour. A coal-burner, it is powered by a 7,000 horsepower turbine gear drive machine. Under construction since last spring, the freighter is due to go into service with the opening of navigation next year.

Comic Jimmy Savo Has Castle For Sale

ROME — (AP) — Want to buy a castle?

Sad-eyed American comedian Jimmy Savo has advertised his for sale.

It is La Rocca di Poggio, a 13th Century castle high in the Umbrian hills. The buyer will also become lord of the tiny village of Poggio, which has nine inhabitants and is within the castle walls.

Savo—known as "Lord Jimmy"—to Poggio's residents—now is in New York city. He offered the castle for sale in newspaper advertisements.

Siamese Twin Boys Thrive At Dayton, O.

DAYTON, O. — (AP)—Siamese twin boys, born Sunday to Mrs. Wesley Galyon, 25, were doing fine in an incubator at St. Ann's Maternity hospital.

Joined at the abdomen, they weighed 11 pounds, 11½ ounces at birth. Doctors said they have not decided if they could be separated by an operation.

"We were expecting twins and were hoping for them," said the 27-year-old father, "but this came as a terrific blow to us."

The Galyons have two other children, a boy 1, and a girl, 2.

Bark River Proud Of Fire Fighters

BARK RIVER, Mich. — This community is proud of its volunteer fire department.

The personnel now consists of 21 energetic firemen, who are taking regular training under the supervision of Herman Palmgren and Captains Norman and LeBeau.

Interest in fire protection services has increased in the community since Bark River township purchased a new 500 gallon Ford fire truck with the latest type of Peter Piersch fire fighting apparatus.

During the past year, the firemen have gained knowledge of fire fighting by actual experience at ten fires and attendance at two state-sponsored fire schools.

Water supply is still somewhat of a problem, however. Chief Palmgren stresses the importance of having every farmer bring along at least two cans of water when fighting a fire. He assures every property owner in the area that his volunteers will protect them from fire loss with all possible effort, but points out that the shortage of water supply at most farms imposes a handicap.

"If everyone will cooperate, we can make a fine record of holding fire losses to a minimum," Chief Palmgren said.

Pay Raise Promised Soldiers In Korea

SENDAI, Japan — (AP) — Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant U. S. Secretary of Defense, told 40th division soldiers that servicemen ordered to duty since the start of the Korean war are entitled to all the benefits of the G. I. Bill of Rights.

And "you are going to get them," she said.

In addition, Mrs. Rosenberg said, a 10 per cent pay raise for all service personnel, retroactive to Nov. 1, will be the first order of business before Congress in January. There is every reason to believe it will pass, she declared.

Girls In Rocky Ride Over Rocky Mountains

VICTORIA, B. C. — (AP) — Two Victoria girls duplicated the feats of British Columbia's pioneer settlers recently and rode two horses across the Rockies.

Ann Wilson and Phyllis Elwood of Victoria explain their trip this way:

"We had the horses in Alberta and we were in Victoria. Horses are expensive in Victoria and so we decided to go to Red Deer, and bring our animals out." The trip took nine weeks.

Highway Funds Going To Counties Slashed To Repay 5 Million

LANSING — (AP) — Five million dollars advanced to state and local highway departments in 1948 by the legislature will be repaid in five years, auditor general John B. Martin, jr., reported.

In an audit of highway funds going to local governments, Martin said the state highway department will start in October to deduct $20,000 each quarter from the monies due counties until the advance is repaid.

The repayment plan also covers an error discovered a year ago in an audit which had sent $476,922 more to 72 counties than was owed them and a similar amount which was kept from 11 counties. Sums less than $10,000 will be repaid in three years and over $15,000 in five years, Martin said.

Columnist Arrests Franchot Tone, Says He Spit In Her Face

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Franchot Tone, the movie actor, went to jail accused of spitting in the face of a veteran movie columnist, red-headed Florabel Muir.

The booking was suspicion of battery, on a citizen's arrest signed by the newspaper and magazine writer. The incident occurred at Ciro's, night club on the Sunset Strip.

Miss Muir told police the actor, new husband of Actress Barbara Payton, came to her table, muttered something uncomplimentary, then said:

"Florabel, I'm so mad I could spit in your face. As a matter of fact, I will."

He did.

The columnist said she slapped him and he kicked her in the shins. She summoned sheriff's deputies, who took him into custody.

These hand-made party dresses for small girls are moderately priced. Young lady (left) is confident of her charm in dotted pink organdy with pouch pockets. Big sister (center) wears maize broadcloth frock with organdy collar and cuffs. Flower-lover (right) shreds daisies in pale blue chambray smocked in pink. Baby dots of the pink sprinkle the white batiste collar, which is ruffled in lace. (Yolande Corporation)

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The first party dress is, for a small girl, as exciting as a first formal to her older sister. Pretty handmade dresses that are moderately priced provide the answer, then, both for her and for her parents' budget.

For fall and winter, these miniature party dresses may have tiny French boleros, may be in sheer white nylon trimmed in nylon lace, may have eyelet embroidery, touches of lace, crisp collars and cuffs in permanent-finish organdy.

For a two-year-old, there's pale blue chambray smocked in pale

Only $9.95 in luscious pink, blue, yellow or mint. Oh, baby!

HORSE sense is saying "Neigh" at the right time. Car sense is saying "yes" to that Studebaker salesman! Because Studebaker makes sense. What other car gives you such a deluxe designing as Studebaker? Better stop down at Petersen and Jacobson Auto Service. Let them show you the fine points of this delightful automobile that is now in the low priced field of cars. It's the sensible thing to do!

Three Study Classes Arranged For Adults

Sufficient interest has been displayed to announce that three subjects or courses will be offered in the adult education program to be held at the Gladstone high school during the winter months.

Registration for the courses will be held at the office of Supt. W. C. Cameron next Monday evening at 7. The fee is $2.50 per person per course.

The three courses to be offered at furniture repair and upholstery, elementary sewing and Practical Arts.

Persons wanting subjects other than the above three may advise Supt. Cameron and if sufficient interest is shown the class will be started.

The first named course has proven popular the past two winters. It is practical and many chairs and sofas have been rebuilt from frame to finished product in previous years. Harold Enders again will be in charge.

The sewing course is designed specifically for beginners and is to be handled by Mrs. Zola Beau-

Recreation Engineer Endorses Swimming Pool In Central Park

Development of the quarry pond into a swimming pool as an integral part of Central park was recommended by G. Leslie Lynch, of New York, recreational planner and engineer of the National Recreation association, at a meeting with representatives of local organizations Monday night in the city firehall.

Lynch spoke in glowing terms of the possibilities of developing the park area as a recreational project and said that the proposed swimming pool should be a feature section of it.

He recommended that the pond be fenced, that various depth levels should be separated by an underwater fence, and that life-guards be on duty while the pool is in use.

The recreational engineer also recommended that softball and baseball activities be centered at the fairgrounds if arrangements can be made with the county for the permanent use of this site. Removal of an old building near the quarry pond, now used as an ice storage house, was also suggested by the speaker.

Pool Should Be Drained
Lynch told the group that the pond should be drained and cleaned before its development into a swimming site. He recommended that the state health department be consulted in reference to the need for cleaning the deeper portion of the pool, estimated to be 40 feet.

Unless adequate funds are available, he urged the group not to consider an indoor pool. The cost of such a project, he pointed out, is usually prohibitive in a community the size of Manistique.

The engineer said that the sand-hills in Central park should be preserved, their use as a skiing and winter sports area continued, and their planting with native trees be undertaken as a part of the over-all program.

In discussing various uses of the park area he said that a substantial picnic site should be included in the plans, with ample parking facilities. He also recommended that a memorial flag pole be erected, and that veterans groups interested in a war memorial should be consulted about the possibility of utilizing the suggested flag memorial.

Need Topographical Map
Other recreational facilities recommended were a wading pool for small children, shuffleboard courts, a bandshell site, and tennis courts.

A topographical map of the entire park area was requested by Lynch, and it was indicated that such a map would be prepared by local engineers during the next two weeks.

The recreational engineer arrived Monday morning and surveyed the area with members of the city recreational commission. Later in the day he met with the commission, and he left following the session Monday night.

After receipt of the topographical map, based on a five-foot scale, Lynch will prepare a tentative master plan for the area. This will be forwarded to the recreation board for study and, if necessary, revision. Following that a master plan for the park will be created.

Priority Plan
The engineer suggested that local groups develop a priority plan for various projects to be incorporated in the park, and that one project at least be adopted by each interested group for development.

The proposed master plan will allocate a definite area of the park for each approved facility, Lynch said.

Mrs. E. H. LeBrasseur, chairman of the city recreation board, presided at the meeting. Also represented at the session were the Manistique Womens club, Manistique Municipal Band, city council, Manistique Ski association, Manistique Baseball association, Lions and Rotary clubs, and other organizations.

Adult Gym Class Will Be Held In Old Gymnasium

Fun in the Gym, one of the courses being offered in the adult evening school opening tomorrow night, will be held in the old gymnasium instead of the Lincoln gym. It is announced by A. F. Hall, superintendent of Manistique public schools.

Interest already has been evinced in square dancing, which is to be taught as one of the gym features. Square dancing, it is reported, is undergoing a revival and many middle-aged persons are unable to dance it.

Classes will meet 7:30 to 9:30 on Thursday nights for nine weeks. More than one class weekly will be organized in a subject if there is a demand for it.

Justin Cousineau Now At Westover

Justin Cousineau, airman apprentice, USN, of Garden Junction, Cooks, Mich., recently reported for duty with Naval Air Transport Squadron 6 stationed at Westover Air Force Base, Springfield, Mass.

Naval Air Transport Squadron 6 is a Naval component of MATS, the Military Air Transport Service, and is one of the two Navy squadrons to participate in the famous "Berlin Airlift". The squadron flies scheduled flights to England, France, Germany and Iceland.

Hold Memorial Service Sunday

Lutherans To Pay Respect To Deceased

Annual memorial service for members of Zion Lutheran church who passed away during the year will be held at the church at 10:30 a. m. Sunday, Nov. 4, it is announced by Rev. G. A. Herbert, pastor.

Rev. Herbert will speak on the theme, "A New Song," and the choir will sing the anthem, "Hark, Hark, My Soul", under the direction of Mrs. James H. Fyvie.

Services this year will be in memory of Ray O. Martin, Emil Nelson, Martin Johnson, Mrs. Augusta Olson, and Mrs. Ida A. Peterson.

Holy communion will be administered during the service.

Briefly Told

St. Alban's Guild—The St. Alban's Guild will hold its annual Christmas tea, bake sale and fancy goods sale December 1 at the St. Alban Episcopal rectory.

Promoted—William McKenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McKenzie, 410 Range street, has been promoted to Third Class Petty Officer. He is stationed in Norfolk, Va.

Divine Services—There will be divine services for the St. Peter's Lutheran church Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bare, 355 Schoolcraft avenue, under the direction of Rev. A. A. Schabow.

Wild Strawberry—David Brock, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Golden Brock, North Eighth street, yesterday found a wild strawberry in his yard. Family members definitely identified the berry as being wild and not a stray everbearing berry.

Rummage Sale—The Ladies' Guild of St. Alban's Episcopal church will sponsor a rummage sale Friday starting at 9 a. m., at the Ford garage. Persons having articles to contribute are asked to bring them to the garage by 8:45 a. m.

George Washington never wrote his name in full, but always signed it G. Washington.

Hearing Tests Underway Here

Mrs. M. Nelson Giving Program

Hearing tests sponsored by the Michigan department of health, the state department of public instruction and the Alger-Schoolcraft health department in cooperation with various school districts are now underway in Schoolcraft county, it is announced.

The tests are being given by Mrs. Malcolm Nelson, 358 Lake street, who was trained for the work last week by Florence Poorman, of Escanaba, regional hearing consultant of the state health department.

Children from the fourth to twelfth grades, inclusive, are taking the tests which are being conducted with a group audiometer. Forty children can take the tests at one time.

Testing in city and Inwood township schools has been completed, and the program is scheduled to move today to other county districts.

Purpose of the program is to discover slight abnormalities in hearing that ordinarily go undetected and to make it possible to put into effect corrective measures that will prevent serious hearing loss later on.

Four steps are followed in carrying out the program. The present clinic, which is the first step, calls for group screening of all children to select those who need individual hearing tests to determine their hearing abilities.

The second step, to be carried out in a latter program this year, is to give detailed hearing tests to those children who show questionable hearing in the group screening. The individual testing will be done by a hearing consultant from the state health department. An "audiogram" or graph is made showing the range and extent of the child's hearing abilities.

The third step in the program is to organize an examination center for medical ear examinations of those children who are shown by the tests to have significant hearing losses.

The final step is to arrange for medical follow-up so that the condition causing the hearing loss may be corrected. If the hearing loss is permanent and cannot be corrected, the follow-up will be directed toward adjusting the educational environment of the child.

One Suitcase Taken From Wehner Home Here Is Recovered

One of two suitcases stolen Saturday night from the Dr. Merle Wehner residence, 540 Cherry street, has been recovered, it was reported last night by local state police.

The suitcase was found Monday morning along US-2, between Manistique and Thompson, by Art Curran, driver of a Schoolcraft county road commission grader. The suitcase was on the north side of the highway where it had apparently been thrown from a moving car.

Police reported that although the suitcase was closed when found, it had been opened and contained older clothing from both suitcases. Authorities believe that the person or persons who took the luggage kept newer wearing apparel from both traveling bags and placed the older material in the discarded suitcase.

Police last night said they had no clues which might lead to a solution of the theft.

TARGET FOR TONIGHT?—One man's pattern of contour farming produced this irregular bull's-eye in a field north of Allentown, Pa. From this air view, it is obvious that the farmer's work had him going around in circles.

MHS Sending Large Group

Local Delegates Total Over 140

The Manistique delegation at the Upper Peninsula Older Boys' Conference Friday and Saturday, promises to be one of the largest groups sent by a host town in conference history, it is reported by Carl Olson, local conference chairman.

The committee initially hoped for about 70 Manistique boys at the conference, Olson said, but the latest count indicates that over 140 will be in attendance.

Outside attendance is expected to reach 250 when all reports are in, Olson said. Towns which have sent definite information follow:

Rock, three boys and one leader; Hancock, four boys and a leader; Lake Linden, seven boys and a leader; Crystal Falls, nine boys and a leader; Newberry, 12 boys and two leaders; Norway, 20 boys and a leader; Ishpeming, about 40 boys and two leaders.

Badges for outside boys were made out of yellow birch by the Michigan Demension company. They are being imprinted by the Tribune Publishing company with the caption: "38th Annual Older Boys' Conference, Manistique, Michigan, 1951", with space provided for the boy's name and town.

Favors for the main banquet, consisting of a nut cup with an owl perched on one side, are being made out of spruce cones by the home economics department of the high school.

Memo books for each boy will be provided by the Mead Corporation, Manistique Division, and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address on parchment paper is being provided for each boy by Emil Knoph.

A large Hi-Y emblem in full colors, standing about five feet in height, is being made by the art and shop departments of the high school.

Courtesy cars driven by local businessmen will be available to take boys to their homes. Boy Scouts will assist.

Fyvie Banquet To Be Nov. 7

Event Will Be Held At Bunyan's

A VFW testimonial dinner in honor of Dr. James H. Fyvie, originally scheduled for Oct. 3, will be held Wednesday evening, Nov. 7, at the Paul Bunyan Cook Camp, it is announced. The dinner is slated for 7.

The original date of the event was changed because of the death of Dr. George A. Shaw with whom Dr. Fyvie was associated.

The program as previously announced will be presented with only one change, Edward J. Hill, of Rudyard, past commander of the 14th district of the VFW, will make the presentation to Dr.

Fyvie instead of William Johnson, of Ishpeming, past district commander.

Those planning to attend the testimonial program and dinner are requested to make their reservations early with Donald Messier, chairman.

Red Cross Official Confers With Chapter Officers Yesterday

Hilary Williams, of Marshfield Wis., general field representative of the American Red Cross, conferred with local Red Cross chapter officials here yesterday.

His area includes the Upper Peninsula and northern Wisconsin, and he is currently on a tour of the peninsula.

Roy E. Anderson is chairman of the local chapter, J. Mauritz Carlson is secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Walter Bush is home service chairman.

We'll bet she's out comparing! For any way you look at it DEXTER TWIN is America's biggest washer value. Compare its speed . . . Dexter Twin does a complete weekly washing in one hour or less. Compare its cleansing power . . . you'll find Dexter Twin washes cleaner than any other.

Double Sudsing makes the big difference. The two washing tubs, each with super-efficient Hi-Wing Agitators, wash all clothes first in lukewarm suds and second in hot suds. That's Double Sudsing — and it washes, rinses, wrings all at the same time.

Brotherhood Of Zion Church To Meet Thursday

Nomination and election of officers will take place at a regular meeting of the Zion Lutheran Brotherhood at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the church, it is announced.

Committees for a harvest festival slated for Nov. 8 also will be appointed and tentative plans for the organization's annual children's Christmas party and family night will be discussed.

Vern Ekstrom is food chairman for the session. All members are requested to be present.

LIZARDS COME FIRST
JOHANNESBURG—(AP)—Mrs. Marion Beatrice Kellett, who died recently, left the interest on $3,920 for the care of seven lizards. As each lizard dies, the capital will be reduced by $560 which will be paid to her husband.

Upper Peninsula sports writers, coaches and officials this week are returning ballots with nominations for the All-Upper Peninsula football team, players and coach of the year . . . The ballots will be used as a guide by the U. P. sports writers when they gather in Menominee next Saturday afternoon to make final selections.

We don't want to get up on a stump and campaign in this column, but we would like to reveal our choice of coach of the year . . . Our nomination goes to a mentor who piloted his squad, to an undefeated, untied season for the first time in the history of his school . . . His boys waded through six schools without even being threatened . . . In fact, his team posted the best defensive record in the Upper Peninsula with all opponents scoring only 12 points . . . His name, of course, is Jerry Anzalone, Powers-Spaulding coach.

We watched the Anzalone-coached Tigers storm over Bark River 26-0 in their final game of the season . . . We saw the neatest little ball club we've ever seen on a football field . . . Anzalone's players were deliberate, calm and alert . . . They took advantage of every break that presented itself and manufactured them when they didn't . . . Blocking and tackling assignments were carried out to perfection . . . Offensive plays were varied beautifully and Bark River weaknesses were quickly taken advantage of.

What makes the Powers record more impressive, naturally, is the small size of the school . . . When the Tigers first began playing football three years ago Coach Anzalone had only one reserve on the squad . . . Last year he got along with 17 players . . . This season Anzalone was elated with the prospect of having two full teams available . . . It's plain that the Powers coach hasn't had much choice in the matter of gridiron talent . . . He took what he had and made them fit the positions . . . We know of no other Upper Peninsula football coach who made as much out of so little . . . In racking up 197 points to opponents' 12, Coach Anzalone's team posted two wins over Florence, Wis., and one win over Rock, St. Paul of Negaunee, Stephenson Bee and Bark River.

Johnny Karras May Outdo Galloping Ghost Saturday

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—(P)—For almost three seasons, somebody or other has tried in vain to compare Johnny Karras with the immortal galloping ghost, Red Grange, at the University of Illinois—currently the nation's No. 3 football team.

Come next Saturday, Johnny has an excellent chance to merit that comparison—against the same Michigan team that was Grange's springboard to everlasting football glory—and in the same arena where old "77" had his greatest day, Memorial stadium here.

The setting, before an expected capacity of 71,119, couldn't be more perfect. Karras has romped to 10 touchdowns in Illinois' unbeaten parade through five games. He needs three more to equal Grange's season record of 13 touchdowns in 1924.

Rose Bowl Prospect
If Karras can get those three touchdowns, it may be enough to blast aside a Michigan club unbeaten in three conference starts which mainly bars the Illini path to the Big Ten throne room and also to the Rose Bowl.

Karras, 175-pound Argo, (Ill.) Express, wasn't swamped this fall with the publicity that hailed him as a wonder boy prior to the 1950 campaign after he just missed all-America as a sophomore in 1949. Johnny has had a chance to set his own pace which reached full stride last Saturday when he scored all three touchdowns in Illinois' 21-0 win over Indiana and

Michigan Defense Corps To Face Sternest Test

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(P)—The Michigan defense corps that has improved with every game this year will face its sternest test of the season Saturday when the Wolverines meet Illinois in the top game of the western conference.

After being shattered by Michigan State's runs and sliced by Stanford's passes, the Michigan defense rallied to play good ball against Indiana, Iowa and Minnesota.

The Wolverines were able to hold down the point production of the opposition stars, Indiana's Bob Robertson, Iowa's Billy Reichardt and Minnesota's Paul Giel.

Breakaway Runners
And now comes Johnny Karras, the wheelhorse of the speedy Illinois outfit. And right with him come Bill Tate, Don Stevens and Pete Bachouras, all five breakaway runners that could spell defeat for Michigan.

On just whose shoulders will the load be? The line, anchored by Michigan's stout tackle, Tom Johnson, and flanked by the good defensive ends, Merritt Green and Russ Osterman, will be the first line of defense, of course.

Kingspins of the secondary are Roger Zatkoff and Gene Knutson, the linebackers who have the occasional assistance of quarterback Ted Topor. Zatkoff, a bruising player whose tackles have cut down many of the enemy threats, is nursing a slightly lame ankle. He is expected to be ready, but just how ready may have a bearing on the contest. Knutson, huge six-foot five-inch sophomore end, is improving and will be asked for more improvement in the big game.

At the halfback posts Dave Tinkham and Don Oldham, two unsung heroes of the Michigan defensive platoon, have been doing yeoman service, despite a disadvantage in height. Both have thwarted opponents' runs and passes, recovered fumbles, and intercepted passes.

Defense Not Deep
At the vital safety position it's Lowell Perry, the lethal offensive end who leads the Michigan scorers and pass receivers.

The Michigan defense is not deep. Any substitution weakens the unit. However, all are in good physical condition and must assume continued good health throughout the contest at Champaign if Michigan is to win.

That unit got its first practice test yesterday. Head Coach Bennie Oosterbaan put the squad through a long drill against the reserves who simulated the Illinois offense.

The varsity began to get an idea of the Illini "T" formation attack and what they must do to stop Karras and Co.

The Michigan coach took part of the practice time to sharpen up the Wolverine aerial game. With Capt.-Hallback Bill Putich doing most of the throwing and Perry doing most of the receiving, the Wolverines filled the air with all sorts of passes, looking fairly effective against the reserve material.

Don Timler Tackle On 1951 All-Great Lakes Conference Grid Team

Don Timler, Gladstone Braves grid captain, was named to a first string tackle berth on the 1951 Senior All Great Lakes Conference football team, announced today by conference coaches.

Timler, five foot, nine inch senior, led the Braves as a "third coach" in the words of Coach Don Pfotenhauer. Playing his third year of football at Gladstone, second as a varsity member, Timler was credited by Pfotenhauer with two-thirds of the tackles made by Gladstone this season.

Line Backer
In the tackle slot on offense and a line backer on defense, Timler was brilliant as a pass defender. In the Stephenson game he intercepted three aeriels and batted down several more. The Gladstone star is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Timler.

Newberry dominated the Great Lakes team with two backs, a center, guard and end. The Marquette Redmen placed four players on the all-conference team. Ispeming, second in the league standings, failed to place a man on the squad. Manistique is also without representation.

The All-Great Lakes team is picked annually by the coaches in the conference. Each coach selects his candidates from conference opponents.

Boggs, Taylor
The Newberry Indians, champions of the conference for the third straight season, placed both their halfbacks, Tom Taylor and Jim Boggs on the first team in addition to Center Jim Anderson, Guard Monte Mohr and End Robert Wood.

Marquette placed four players on the squad, Munising two and Soo one in addition to the players listed above. The squad numbered 13 gridgers.

Following are the members:
Back—Tom Taylor, Newberry
Back—Jim Boggs, Newberry
Back—Don Mazzali, Munising
Back—Ron Johnson, Marquette
Back—Robert Mason, Sault Ste. Marie

Center—Jim Anderson, Newberry
Guard—Monte Mohr, Newberry
Guard—Ron Posio, Marquette
Guard—Glen Radloff, Munising
Tackle—Dick Paquette, Marquette
Tackle—Don Timler, Gladstone
End—Jack Boyle, Marquette
End—Robert Wood, Newberry.

Writer Gets On Wisconsin Band Wagon Saturday

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO—(P)—After learning about Wisconsin the hard way, we proceed warily again to the football guessing chamber:

Illinois 21, Michigan 12—This is one quite simply. Unbeaten Illinois has rolled up 130 points and Michigan has 121. The difference: nine points. Voila! Michigan will encounter a defense it didn't see against Indiana, Iowa or Minnesota. The Wolverines are foxy, but Illinois has Johnny Karras. Also, Illinois is measured third best in the nation by the (P) poll.

Wisconsin 28, Indiana 7—Indiana's Bobby Robertson is counting cadence now, and even with him the Hoosiers would have had little chance against the Badgers, who have found their break-away runner. He is Jerry Witt, who was hiding on the "B" team.

Minnesota 19, Iowa 14—A couple of loose losers battle for exclusive lease on the Big Ten. Injuries have weakened Iowa at quarterback and Minnesota's Paul Giel is getting better and better.

Ohio State 21, Northwestern 13—The Wildcats still don't know what hit them and their perfect record last Saturday. It was Wisconsin, 41-0, a score, lopsided as it was that didn't tell the story of Badger superiority. Ohio State has added offensive punch with Tony Curcillo's new-found passing accuracy.

Purdue 20, Penn State 14—The Boilermakers, who gave Notre Dame quite an argument for a while, will be in better health. The eastern invaders, however, are no pushovers.

Notre Dame 28, Navy 6—Here's where the Irish tune-up for that big party with Michigan State the following Saturday. M. S. C.'s Spartans wisely are sitting next Saturday out for a proper mental and physical approach to the Irish clash.

College of Pacific 21, Marquette 20 (Friday night)—The capable Hilltoppers collide with a West Coast eleven which has lost only once and traveled in pretty fast company.

Joe Louis Comeback Barred In Illinois

CHICAGO—(P)—If Joe Louis decides to hit another comeback trail he will have to detour Illinois.

The Illinois athletic commission will deny him permission to fight in this state, for his own well being.

Chairman Joe Triner said Louis "should not take chances of being hurt . . . he's been a great part of the game, but he should quit before it's too late."

For His Own Good
"If Louis continues to fight, and if he ever applies for a license to fight in Illinois, it will be denied for his own good."

Commissioners Lou Radzienda and Ralph Metcalfe agree.

"If Louis does not retire of his own accord, the National Boxing Association should retire him for his own sake," said Radzienda. "I am suggesting this in a letter to Dave Rochn (NBA president) in Montreal."

Radzienda is a member of the NBA's suspensions and appeals committee. Triner is a member of the NBA executive committee.

The 37-year-old former heavy-weight king, belted through the ropes by Rocky Marciano in Madison Square Garden Friday night, has not announced retirement plans.

His attorney, Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing club, said he did not believe Louis would try another comeback.

"Judging from what Joe has told me, I am reasonably sure he has no plans for future fights," Gibson observed. "I talked with Marshall Miles (Louis' manager) and he said there were no plans for Louis to continue fighting—that Louis was through."

Leaving On Tour
Gibson said he expects Joe to announce his plans for the future when he returned from an exhibition tour of Japan. He is to leave New York on Nov. 10.

Meanwhile, Louis' income tax indebtedness, reportedly about $100,000, may be ironed out by a compromise settlement. But Joe will have to give up fighting to bring this about.

John T. Jarecki, collector of internal revenue for the Northern Illinois district, said a compromise is possible if Louis intends to quit the ring and proves his inability to pay his full back tax.

"The glamour is worn off Louis now and he's through (as a boxer)," said Jarecki. "You can't get blood out of a turnip."

Sawyer Signed For Three Year Contract As Phil's Manager

PHILADELPHIA—(P)—Eddie Sawyer, newly re-signed as manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, has his job cut out for him—justifying the boss' faith in his ability to get the Phils back in the game as pennant contenders.

The 41-year-old one time college professor yesterday became the first manager in modern Phils history to win a three-year managerial contract.

"I signed him for three years to show my confidence in his ability as a manager, and to put an end to all rumors that have been circulating since mid-season," said Bob Carpenter, young owner of the National league baseball club.

Rubinstein Due For Deportation

But Ruark Wonders Whether He'll Go

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—It is with heavy intent of prejudicing all witnesses that I venture the hope that Mr. Serge Rubinstein, an unsavory type if there ever was one, will be kicked out of the country by the immigration lads who are now considering applying the bounce. I can get real loose in the language when I consider Serge, because he is not the lad to go to court to get you. Courts come to him, as do jails, and all he has is money and guile to stand them off. Rubinstein is the delightful kind of international financier type who once had himself ruled a love child—although I had a stronger word in mind—to pick up a phony citizenship, which has later been denied by the Portuguese.

15 Draft Deferments

Rubinstein seems to me to be a mirror of the international conscience today. He makes me sore when I even think of him. This is the classic spoiler, the boy, you would like to have in the family if your name was Ma Barker and your address was Murder, Inc.

In the last war he bought himself about 15 draft deferments, and finally went to jail—after, of course, the shooting' was over. By money and influence he repeatedly ducked a serious charge of stock-rigging, in the ripe case of the Taylorcraft Corp., and by some miracle of justice was acquitted. To the best of my knowledge nobody has had at him on income-tax evasion, but that, too, is a minor miracle of oversight.

Symbol of Our Times

Rubinstein used the White House extensively during the war as a gimmick for his dubious businesses, according to the photostatic copies of invitations I keep in my files to comfort me when I am feeling low. He has operated on high levels for low purposes, always, and to me is symbolic of the filthiness of our times.

Rubinstein has ever been a genius at corruption—corruption in Japan, corruption in Canada, his port of entry to the States, corruption here. He is a genius, too, according to the financiers who know him, but the trouble with his particular kind of talent was that he always used it negatively to wreck what he touched.

We have ruled the guy eligible for deportation, but the problem is where to send him. Russia, where he was born, doesn't want any part of him. I am sure Japan has had him, and Canada, and Europe. I suppose one of the less savory banana republics might receive him, since they are inured to the idea of providing sanctuary to outcasts, and he might even fit the scheme in Argentina today.

My idea of deportation procedure would be simple. You would put the old draft-dodger in a boat, take him outside the eight-mile limit, and find out how well he could swim. This would not be as brutal as it sounds, since he would undoubtedly have a fix in on the sharks, and a tidy black-market rescue rig standing by. Probably provided by the RFC.

Ducked Entire War

As it is we will probably keep old Serge, free on bond, free to operate, free to foul the air we breathe, because with his dough and easy approach to buyable folk, he can go forever on appeals, through court after court after court. His trial in the Taylorcraft thing was years in the building, and he ducked the entire dangerous war on repeated deferments. If you wonder why I got so wrought up about a guy that I once staged a one-man demonstration to keep him in jail, it is simply this: I knew a nice gent who caught one down the stack at Salerno at a time when this illegal foreigner, Rubinstein, had just rigged a fresh draft deferment through pull, lies and possibly bribery.

Rubinstein affronts every shred of decency in the ordinary American, and besides he isn't our boy, but an undesirable import. In the days of the Old West somebody would settle him simply by shooting him, but that's illegal now and he isn't worth going to jail for. The best thing we can do is lose him. Lose him fast, or let us then begin to speculate on loud as to just who is interested in keeping the rascal here.

Hyde

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Priester of Lansing, Fred Domka of Minneapolis and Robert Matthews of Crandon, Wis. who came here for the funeral services of Irving Matthews, brother of Mrs. Richard Donahue, were guests at the Donahue home.

McMillan

Mrs. Betty Williams who has been visiting here the past several weeks at the home of her parents, expects to leave Wednesday for her home in Pontiac. She will be accompanied to Pontiac by Mrs. Geraldine Schlereth who expects to be employed in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Mainville and family have returned to their home in Detroit following a few days visit here at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mainville. Mr. and Mrs. Mainville expect to return to McMillan for the deer hunting season.

Mrs. Floyd Bryers has returned home following a short visit with relatives in Gladstone.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Richards and the latter's mother, Mrs. William Bryers of Manistique and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Bryers of Newberry were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Richards.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Freeman transacted business in Escanaba Wednesday.

Judy Weekley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weekley who has been a patient in the Tahquamenon General hospital at Newberry where she recently submitted to a tonsillectomy has been discharged and is convalescing at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Thorley motored to Sault Ste. Marie Wednesday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Francis Pelletier who entered the War Memorial hospital for medical attention.

Mrs. Russell Mark entertained a number of friends at her home Wednesday evening. Games were played and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Velma Grames was hostess to members of the East Lakefield Homemakers at her home Friday evening. Mrs. Grames Leader gave the Christmas gift lesson. Following the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

Bluebirds Of Rapid River Entertain At Dinner Party

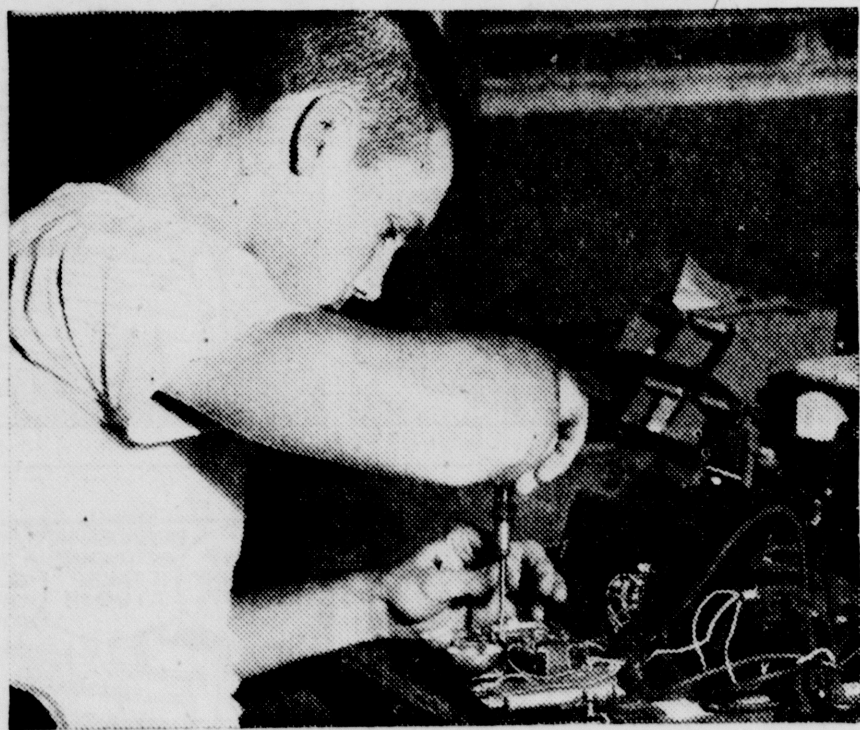

RAPID RIVER—The Bluebird group of Rapid River led by Mrs. Walter Peters entertained their parents at a dinner Friday evening, October 26, at the high school gymnasium. The girls cooked and served the dinner with the assistance of some of the mothers.

Mrs. Clarence Zerbe of Escanaba gave an interesting talk on activities of Bluebird groups and also Camp Fire girls.

The girls entertained with their Bluebird song and also told of their activities during the past year.

The parents and friends present were: Mrs. Clarence Zerbe and daughter of Escanaba, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Schrader, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lagerquist, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Casimir, Mrs. Leslie Caswell and JoAnne, Mrs. Florence Lagerquist, Mrs. Eva Pfeiffer, Mrs. Walter Wilbee, Mrs. George Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Cole and

It's happening every day in Michigan

1 Ever wonder what happens to telephones that Michigan Bell removes when people move away? Well, they're sent to the Detroit repair shop of the Western Electric Company, the manufacturing and supply division of the Bell System. Here they're taken apart, have their worn parts replaced, are cleaned, painted and polished—and made good as new.

3 Then, all ready to go back to work, they are packaged and returned to Michigan Bell. Put in first-class condition at a fraction of the cost of new telephones, they'll give good service for many years.

2 They must pass the same tough tests given brand new phones. Any defect—in wiring, transmitter, receiver, dial, or other parts—would keep the telephone from passing the inspection of this skilled testman.

Reconditioning like this helps conserve our supply of equipment, but it doesn't increase the supply. Millions of dollars worth of new switchboards, wire, cable, and instruments are needed to meet expanding telephone needs. Money to buy that equipment must come from investors, who expect and are entitled to a fair return. That's why—
